

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A sandwich-type product applicator (1) includes a support (2) defining an applicator portion (4) and a gripping portion (6). The support is semi-rigid and the gripping portion is covered, at least in part, by a layer (16a) of a first soft spongy material. The flexibility of the first material is greater than the flexibility of the support.